

STILL ATTACKING

The Japs Still Investing By Land and Sea

CLOSING IN ON THE FORTRESS

The Attacking Force Said To Be Preparing for a Final Assault Under Cover of the Fleet

Cheloo, May 25.—The Japanese are attacking Port Arthur by both sea and land. According to reports brought here today by Chinese vessels the Japanese are attempting to storm the fortifications to the north of Port Arthur and some of Togo's cruisers are shelling the Russians' position, while the Japanese infantry advance. Some reports declare that the Japanese have been very unsuccessful in their attempts and have suffered heavy losses. Other reports indicate that the Japanese are slowly but surely pressing the Russians back.

St. Petersburg, May 25th.—While there has been no official report of heavy fighting in the far east, rumors that the Japanese have been crushingly defeated at Port Arthur and in the vicinity of Feng Wang Cheng are persistently circulated and the populace credit them. In diplomatic circles the stories are not credited. Dispatches from the front are coming in to the general staff constantly and it is inconceivable that if there had been any general engagement or fighting involving the loss of many men, that Kuropatkin would have failed to mention it and it is certain that the government is not inclined to withhold news telling of Russian successes. While there has been no official news of a battle, word has been received that the Cossacks under Mischehenko and Romanenskoup have been active and have inflicted no little damage on the Japanese. Two transport trains have been captured and the Japanese line of communication is being constantly harassed. This has involved some fighting, but the losses so far as men are concerned have been trivial on both sides. It is whispered in naval circles that Admiral Skrydoff will try to get into Port Arthur, and if successful, will attempt a sortie, with an idea of inflicting damage on the Japanese fleet and relieving the blockade of Port Arthur.

THREE MEN IN A BOAT

The pleasures of the afternoon yesterday for the glenckers at Groat's flats was rudely broken by the distressed screams of a party of shipwrecked mariners in the river opposite the flats. The party which consisted of three local sports went up to the mouth of the Whites Mud early in the day and there constructed an impromptu raft by nailing a floor on a couple of logs laid side by side. On this they embarked for a run down to Fraser's mill. For a time all went merrily as a hand wagon until the shallow water opposite Groat's flats was reached, when the craft turned sideways for some purpose not known and the front log reached down and found a boulder or a snag or some kind of an impediment and promptly and solidly stuck there about thirty feet from shore. There was a frantic scramble for the water, but the rapid rush of the water, which turned on edge, leaving only the stern visible, here with the swirling waters threatening to sweep them down to Lake Winnipeg and a multitude of loose logs bearing down upon them from above, the castaways started to manufacture the volleys of language which drew the attention of the glenckers.

These came in force and as the water was fully three feet deep they readily appreciated the critical position of the seamen. No boat was at hand to rescue them nor any line to throw out so the spectators devoted themselves to the task of preparing the mariners for the worst. "Rescue the Perishing" and other appropriate hymns were sung but had no apparent soothing effect on the feelings of the unfortunate, whose faces grew paler as their wailing grew louder. Friendly counsel followed, mingled with admonitions to the unfortunates to take off their boots and wade ashore, to swim out, to float ashore in their hats, or to try a standing jump at it. This was unavailing and as the spectators began to fear the unfortunates might suffer from hunger a messenger was sent to Walter's mill whence came two sturdy boatmen and conveyed the adventurous spirits over the turbulent waters to terra firma. They have now gone into retirement to recover the effects of exposure and the shock.

FRIENDS OF THE WEST?

During the progress of the investigation into the Macoun report on Peace river by the Agricultural Committee of Parliament, a considerable amount of attention was given to the affair by the press of Eastern Canada. Amongst the more or less prominent papers taking part in the discussion was the Toronto News. The News announces itself as an Independent Journal devoted to politics, education, literature, the presentation of current news and the diffusion of useful information."

Taken at its own valuation as above the News is a paper with a mission. From the high ground which it assumes to occupy it sometimes designs to favor the North West with its distinguished consideration. Taking the attitude of the only true friend and protector, it has at sundry times and for diverse reasons—known but not obvious—championed the cause of provincial autonomy. At its own valuation as a paper with a mission and as a friend of the North West, its utterances naturally received an amount of attention which the accuracy of the statements or the logic of the arguments did not warrant. But while the News assumes to be a paper with a mission, and that mission the general uplifting of the Canadian mind, its reputation based on its short and not over brilliant career under the present management, is that of a cross between an attempted bandit and a would be thug. That is one who—speaking in a literary sense—would rob for profit and murder from principle—always providing the opportunity were favorable.

When the Macoun investigation was on, and the time seemed opportune to deal the North West a black eye, the News could not resist its natural instincts as the following paragraph from a nearly two column editorial of April 25th shows:

"Observers in the East are likely to attach importance to the fact that the leader in the attack (upon Mr. Macoun's statements) comes from the town which hopes to be the centre from which the expected rush into the Peace river country will be directed. To be the base of supplies for a new district is an advantage which Western towns prize highly. It is a perfectly legitimate advantage; but we of Eastern Canada are justified in asking the people of every Western town to be scrupulous in their presentation of the attractions of adjacent districts. In this case, the fury of the attack on Mr. Macoun makes a bad impression. It calls to memory the manner in which certain residents of the same town of Edmonton turned to account the Klondike excitement. With cruel selfishness or thoughtlessness the impracticable Edmonton route to the Yukon was represented far and wide as safe and easy. Those interested in securing the outfitting trade did not hesitate to denounce as 'in the pay of the Canadian Pacific' journals which refused to recommend the route. Many men were induced to take the trail; great suffering was caused and a number of lives were lost; and much profit ensued to certain people of Edmonton."

It all the dirt thrown at the people of Edmonton, and incidentally all the people of the West, by this paragraph was justified, what in heaven's name has that to do with the question at issue, namely the truth or falsehood of Mr. Macoun's report and evidence. The News does not dare to directly discredit the North West in its own words, but it attempts to uphold Macoun in doing so by implying interested motives and discredited actions to Western people, and to those who are fighting their battles. That was not the worst it would have liked to say; but that was the worst it dared say at the moment.

It is a good while since the Klondike rush took place. Many people may have never heard the facts and many more may have forgotten them. Under such circumstances it may very well be that the dirt thus thrown at the people of Edmonton by this paper of high and clear pretensions, and with whose "inward" the public is not familiar, is accepted as a fact—which it most emphatically is not.

Under all the circumstances the evidence of one of those victims of the "cruel selfishness" of those Edmonton people "interested in the outfitting trade" is perhaps the most effective answer both to Mr. Macoun's misstatements regarding the Peace river and those of the News regarding the people of Edmonton.

Lieut. J. E. Johnson, editor of Post, of Leamington, Essex County, Ont., and a prominent Conservative, who conducted a party to Peace river in 1898, has the following to say in the editorial columns of the issue of the Post of May 5th:

"The discussion of Prof. Macoun's report on the Peace river district still continues. The writer has traversed the river from Dunvegan on the west to Slave river on the east, and there are hundreds of thousands of acres of the best land in Canada along the Peace. Have seen fields of one hundred acres at Vermilion, three hundred miles east of Peace River Landing, of the finest wheat ever grown, while at the Landing itself, there is magnificent farming land. All crops grown in Ontario with the exception of fruit can be successfully grown there. All kinds of vegetables grow luxuriantly as far north as Fort Simpson on the McKenzie, 1000 miles north of Toronto and 2000 miles west. Would like to conduct a party over the Edmonton route and convince them that the Professor, in making his report, did not know what he was talking about. The Peace river country will be teeming with happy millions before many years. At Hay River, a few hundred miles north of the Peace, Rev. Mr. Marsh, of the Anglican Church, grows as fine crops, and as fat cattle as can be grown anywhere. It is a grand country, no matter what Prof. Macoun may say to the contrary."

If Col. Johnston had any kick against the people of Edmonton or against the Peace river his opportunity for making it quite equal to those of the News editor. But he endorses the Peace river strongly and expresses a willingness to outfit again with the business men of Edmonton.

There are two great differences between the respective editors of the News and Post. The first is that the Post editor knew what he was writing about, while the News editor did not. The second is that the Post editor wanted to tell the truth, while the News editor did not. A further difference is evident. The Post editor was willing to speak well of the West and the News editor did not.

Special Correspondence:

Obstructing the Railway

Consideration of the amending Transcontinental Railway Bill was resumed in committee of the whole on Wednesday, after an interval extending from the previous Thursday night. By arrangement between the government and the leader of the opposition, copies of the amendments to be proposed by the opposition had been placed in the hands of the government on Thursday night. They therefore had the intervening four days in which to consider them and arrive at a final conclusion. The amendments were duly moved and discussed freely, but without any manifestation of obstructive tactics on the part of the opposition, as had been their previous custom. The amendments were lengthy and were drawn with all the legal cleverness of which the leader of the opposition is so largely possessed, for the ostensible purpose of improving the terms of the contract in the interests of the people, but really for the purpose of arousing distrust in and dissatisfaction with the contract as a last resort of the policy of determined opposition with which himself and party have met the railway proposals from the start. Although Mr. Borden has certainly a most logical mind and an ability for close reasoning second to none in the Dominion, circumstances compelled him in arguing the amendments which he now placed before the House to contradict in every particular and to the most extreme degree the position taken by himself and party in opposing the bargain at first presented. Then they were at all sorts of pains to prove that the company could not profitably, even if possibly, fulfil its agreements. Now their demand is that the company shall be loaded with burdens and restrictions which could only be justified on the supposition that the enterprise would be extremely profitable. Last year their adverse comments upon the merits of the arrangement had more than their due effect in frightening the British investor and thereby rendering impossible the financing of the scheme on the original basis. This year their effort is to frighten the Canadian electorate against the effort to develop the country and provide it with competitive railway facilities. It remains to be seen whether or not they have miscalculated the intelligence of the people of Canada.

The Government Holds First Mortgage Security

The first amendment of the day was moved by Mr. Barker and pertained to the ownership of the twenty million dollars worth of rolling stock upon which the company must give a first mortgage to the government as security for the government's guarantee of interest. The Minister of Justice held that the terms of the agreement which require that the company shall give the government a first mortgage on this twenty million dollars worth of rolling stock could not be supplemented by any form of words that would not weaken the provision. Messrs. Borden, Barker, Oiler, Clarke, Sproule and Lennox argued to set up a legal quibble in this connection which, should the occasion ever arise, can only result in very, greatly strengthening the case of the company, should it ever desire to avoid its obligations as undertaken in the contract. The amendment was negatived in committee by 31 to 25.

How the Eastern Division is Expected to pay

The second amendment was moved by Mr. Barker and related to the operation of a part of the eastern division by the company; before the whole was completed, and therefore before the terms of the bargain contained in the original agreement could take effect. The amendment was that the company should pay 3 per cent. interest on the cost of construction of such portion during the time it was in operation before the

CELEBRATED AT THE FORT

Results of the Horse Races—Edmonton
Baseball Team Defeated by a Narrow Score—Concert in the Evening

The day which for over half a century was celebrated throughout the Empire as the anniversary of the birth of our "Great Queen," and which has been perpetuated as a Canadian holiday by special parliamentary enactment, was celebrated yesterday at Fort Saskatchewan by a series of horse races and other sports.

The weather man was not kind and though it has not been known in the history of the Fort celebrations to have a rain storm on May 24th, yesterday's weather was decidedly of the unpleasant order. A strong wind blew during the afternoon, carrying the clouds of dust from the track into the grand stand and arousing bitter regrets for missing overcasts.

Edmonton turned out to the sports in force. A dozen busses went down, the resources of every livery in town were exhausted to provide conveyances, scores went down in private conveyances, on horseback, and on bicycles, while Pierce's steamer took down about two dozen. The attendance from the surrounding country was large and during the afternoon the committee estimated that they had two thousand people on the grounds. The attendance was far the largest ever seen at the Fort at a race meeting or celebration.

The race program began shortly after one o'clock and the long string of events occupied the time until nearly six. The track was in good shape, though a trifle thick with dust. The judges were: Messrs. Walker, Forte and Leoby. G. Manuels was starter.

The first race called was the green pony run, quarter mile, two heats in three. There were five entries, Jennie, Ardel, Lucky Maud, Nett, and Rob Roy. Ardel won the first heat and Jennie the second and third, Ardel securing second money and Lucky Maud third.

In the free-for-all there were three entries, Lucy M. Woodlawn and Raga. Lucy M. took both heats with ease. Woodlawn finished an easy second in the first heat but fell in the second and was out of the race.

There were three entries also in the half mile open run. Kingfisher took first money, Cluster second.

Three started in the 14-1-2 pony race, half mile. Midnight got the first heat but dropped out of the race. Shoestring won the next two heats and took first money, while Fanny secured second.

Lucky Kid won easily both heats of the matched trot with Sandy.

Probably the most interesting event of the day from the onlooker's standpoint, was the three year old trot or pace, which certainly included some novelties. In the first heat Doc C. led about half way around the ring, then broke. Miss Elizabeth promptly followed and the two horses galloped around and under the wire neck and neck. Selma, the third entry, was about a furlong behind, but had none of the excitable qualities of the other two and trotted quietly under the wire. She was quietly under the wire. She was given the heat. In the second heat Doc C. and Miss Elizabeth were going it even about three-quarters way around, when a mix-up occurred. Eliza's cart upset, the driver fell off. Eliza promptly stopped, the driver righted his cart, clambered aboard and trotted Doc a close finish with one wheel lopping out at a dangerous angle. Doc won the third heat and the race.

At the close of the race program the procession formed up under the leadership of the Edmonton band, which was present during the day, and marched to the ball grounds to see the homo team and that from Edmonton do battle for a purse of $75.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Ft. Sask.	Edmonton
Atkinson	Brown
Steeves	Pitcher
D. Simons	Curry
Sword	Rowe
S. Simons	Magill
Kimball	Maloney
	Deaton

Carson	Right Field.	Gilmour
Salter	Centre Field.	Milne
Lamoureux	Left Field.	Till

The game from the start was close and hard fought, though with honors usually slightly in favor of the Fort. Steeves pitched a good game and kept the batting of the town team down. Curry, too, made the home batters earn all their strikes and had been well supported in the field the result would have been different. Considering that it was the first time the teams had met for the season the game was not at all bad and is a promise of some close matches to follow during the summer. Edmonton's weakness appeared to be in the field and to errors the Fort may give the credit for most of their runs. The Fort team, however, were by no means free from sin in this matter and a couple of overthrows helped out the Edmonton score.

The score by innings was as follows:—

Edmonton—0 0 3 1 3 3 0 32—13.
Fort Sask'ton—2 0 1 4 0 5 2 1—15.

J. Irwin refereed the game. The day's sports concluded with a concert given by the baseball team in Langworthy hall in the evening. The concert was well attended. Following was the program:—

KILLED BY A CAR

ON WINNIPEG STREET

Two Accidents on Winnipeg Trams Yesterday Resulted in One Death Another Badly Injured

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Winnipeg, May 25.—Two street car accidents, one causing instant death and the other injuries which may prove fatal, happened on Main street yesterday.

Fred Atwood was killed while trying to board a rapidly moving car at Market avenue. He swung under the wheels and his head was crushed to pulp. He was a son of the late Col. Atwood.

Peter Morrison while clinging to an over-crowded trailer lost his hold in the crush as the cars were passing Graham avenue at full speed and struck the asphalt pavement with his head, fracturing his skull.

CORNER STONE OF NEW ARTS BUILDING

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Ottawa, May 25.—The corner stone of the new Arts building of the University of Ottawa was laid in the presence of a distinguished company of churchmen and laity. It was glorious weather for such a function, and the bright sunshine streaming over the gorgeous vestments gave an appearance of color and richness which was enhanced by the presence of a large number of spectators. Addresses were delivered by Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Emard, of Valleyfield, and by members of the government.

Lumber Situation

From the Farmer's Advocate:
For several months a great deal has been said in the press and elsewhere regarding the lumber combine of British Columbia, and the high prices for lumber and shingles which have prevailed throughout Manitoba and the Territories during the past few years. On the one hand, we have been told by the manufacturers at the Coast that no combine existed, that prevailing prices at the mills were unremunerative, and that the figures which appeared high to consumers were only so because the railway company (C.P.R.) was disposed to collect exorbitant transportation rates. On the other hand, the response of the railway company was to the effect that freight charges were on the lowest paying basis, that the reason for high prices was the existence of a lumber combine, and that unless prices for the common grades of lumber in B.C. were lowered so that settlers would be allowed to erect buildings and build up the country, they, the C.P.R., would themselves proceed to establish mills on the west side of the Rockies.

Some time previous to this announcement, it will be remembered that the B. C. lumbermen signified their intention of approaching the Dominion Government, to ask for an increased duty on lumber coming from the United States, claiming that the millmen of the latter country, owing to more advantageous conditions, were enabled to undersell them. In reply to this, the "Farmer's Advocate," on behalf of the farmers of this country, published a series of vigorous articles, which so upset the confidence of the B. C. lumbermen and exposed the situation, that strong remonstrances were made by the Secretary of that Association in a letter published in this paper January 20. After that date the agitation became so general in the local and daily press that it was by no means an unpopular statement that the C.P.R. made, viz., that the combine would have to be broken.

Since that time there has been a general mixup on the part of the manufacturers at the Coast, and as a result the combine may be said to be at an end. To the consumers this news is gratifying, even at this late date, but it pointed out in these columns some time ago, such a termination of the hold-up on the part of the B. C. lumbermen was inevitable. For more than a year they have slowly but surely found the Manitoba market, slipping from their grasp, as it went to the Americans, who were prepared to sell at reasonable figures. It is also unnecessary to say that the C. P. R. saw the same condition approaching, and as a certain result, the loss of freight, hence no wonder they became alarmed, although presumably on behalf of the farmers.

Reviewing the situation as it is today, we find that prices of B. C. lumber in Winnipeg have fallen all the way from three to five dollars per thousand, and yet the freight rate remains the same as before. A thousand feet of lumber usually weighs from 2,700 to 3,000 pounds, which at forty cents per hundred, (in House of Commons the Coast members are reported as saying the rate is 50 to 55c), from the Coast to Winnipeg, places the average freight charges on a thousand feet of lumber at $12.50, while the total selling price may not be more than $18.00, leaving $5.50 to be divided between the manufacturers and the dealer. Who then shall we say is getting the cream from the lumber industry? We find the N.P.R. and the G.N.R. both bring lumber from Washington to Winnipeg, several hundred miles more than the C.P.R. haul, for 40 cents per hundred pounds.

If lowering in freight charges, therefore, by this great Canadian transportation company were to take place, it would not be anything more than the situation demands. Even with the reduction which has already taken place in the price of B. C. lumber in Winnipeg, the Washington mills are still able to place immense quantities, and the probability is that even better prices may be quoted before the summer is over. These reduced prices, however, cannot be expected to continue for any length of time, or become permanent, especially on fir lumber, unless a reduction in the freight rate takes place.

A special plea for higher duties on lumber has been made at Ottawa by the B. C. millmen, and to make it more effective and to gain sympathy for their cause, reports continue to come from the Coast that mills are about to shut down. This is but a repetition of the old and badly-worn bluff, of the manufacturers, who, when higher duties are desired, begin to threaten to close the mills. A close investigation of the situation reveals the fact that expert lumbermen who are financiers, see money in B. C. lumber manufacturing even at present, when some would have us believe there is a serious depression and that hope for the future of the lumberman's interest is almost lost. A very large mill is about to be erected at Nelson, B.C., and mills elsewhere in that Province are handling their first cut.

While it is gratifying to the farmers to know that the lumber combine is practically broken, there is also satisfaction in knowing that the shingle combine has had to collapse. The effect of this was first felt in Winnipeg about three weeks ago, when, as the result of information to the effect from B. C. manufacturers, the price instantly dropped thirty cents per thousand. Simultaneously with this came the announcement in a B. C. daily that the shingle manufacturers in that Province were pleased to learn that Washington shingle mills were about to shut down. A prominent lumberman, who has remained outside of the combine, said a short time ago that he was satisfied the vigorous editorials which have been published in the "Farmer's Advocate" contributed very largely to the breaking of the combine and the general improvement of the situation from the farmer's standpoint.

While the situation shows improvement, we are of the opinion that it is only temporarily so, unless farmers continue on the watch, and be ever ready to protect their own interests. Meanwhile, they may rest assured that the policy of the "Farmer's Advocate" will remain the same, and when we consider that the interests of the farmer require it, we shall be heard from on short notice.

EDMONTON CRICKETERS WON

A cricket match was played at Strathcona yesterday between Edmonton and the local club resulting in a victory for Edmonton; Mr. E. F. Slocock making 65 runs for Edmonton in excellent style. This result will, it is now felt, tend to encourage the cricketers of Edmonton.

The Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting 8 sections which have not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made personally at the local land office for some of the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining a patent may be satisfied by the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, countersigned in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, or, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead,

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township. A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3, or 4, must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for "vicinity" use, and have besides 30 acres subtenanted.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing the land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,

Deputy Minister of the Interior. N.E.—In addition to Free Grant Lands to which the regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of more desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

Increased Wheat Acreage in Canada

Minneapolis Journal of May 17th.

Reports from all parts of western Canada indicate that there will be a very large increase in the area sown to wheat this spring. The acreage in Manitoba will be about 2,500,000 and in the Territories more than a million. At the average yield of wheat in western Canada, this acreage indicates a yield of about 75,000,000 bushels. If the crop should prove to be a bumper, such as that of 1901, the total yield will press close on 100,000,000 bushels, or about 40,000,000 bush more than last year.

Western Canada seems to be fulfilling the prophecies that have been made regarding its possibilities in wheat production. When a region that has scarcely more than three-quarters of a million population, is producing nearly 100,000,000 bushels of wheat a year, one begins to wonder what will happen when the population is several times as large and the wheat acreage ten or twelve millions. While western Canada goes on increasing its wheat production, the spring wheat states seem to have passed their maximum. It therefore seems certain that ere long the larger part of the spring wheat produced on this continent will come from western Canada. Wheat is to be king there. His kingdom is a shifting one. Long has he ruled in these north-western states, but usurpers more fit favor with the people are coming in, and the old king has found a new domain in western Canada. There his rule will doubtless be a long one. There remains no other kingdom for him in this part of the world.

Fairy Bank Store Burned

Ponoka Herald: The news was brought to town yesterday that at noon on Wednesday W. J. Earl's Fairy Bank store and post office were burned to the ground. We are informed that he succeeded in saving only his account books, his entire stock and the mail in the office being a complete loss. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been from a defective stove pipe. Some insurance was carried but we have not heard the amount.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES

Mr. F. Barnes of Clover Bar, who was brought to the General Hospital on Friday for treatment for a broken leg, succumbed to his injuries on Saturday, dying about four o'clock. Amputation was performed on Saturday morning, the leg being amputated at the knee. For a time the patient seemed to be progressing favorably and hopes for his recovery were entertained, but the shock to the system proved beyond his strength and a relapse which terminated fatally, occurred on Saturday afternoon. The body was taken to his late home at Clover Bar for interment.

AN IMMIGRATION PAMPHLET

An immigration pamphlet compiled by Immigration Agent Suter, is nearing completion in the Bulletin Job Department and will be issued in the course of a few days.

The pamphlet comprises about 80 pages and is profusely illustrated with cuts showing farm scenes in the district, the principal business places in Edmonton and many of the leading men of the town.

It is designed for use of the immigration agents in the United States and in the old country, an edition of five thousand being printed for this purpose.

Boy Ran Away

The Ponoka Herald says: F. L. Smith and wife, northwest of town, are at present considerably concerned over the loss of their sixteen-year-old son who left home last Sunday afternoon. The boy had a few words with his father who scolded him for ill-treating some of the smaller children. At this the boy left home and has not since been seen by his parents. Mr. Smith traced him for some distance around the neighborhood and learns that he was in Ponoka on Monday, but has no further trace of him. Naturally both Mr. and Mrs. Smith are much grieved at the boy's actions and are anxious to get him back home, especially since the boy's health is such that it is unsafe for him to be wandering around alone.

completion of the whole division. The clause which it was proposed to amend in this way provided that the company could lease such section from the government on terms which would not be more onerous than the terms upon which the company leased the whole division. As these terms were seven years free of interest and 3 per cent. on cost of construction for 43 years, it is evident that the amendment of the opposition called for a practically higher charge for the use of a part of the eastern division than the government's bargain required for the use of the whole. The first objection of the opposition to the eastern division was that the company could not make it pay; and now they demanded a higher rental than the bargain which they had already declared was too onerous required of the company. If the company could afford to pay 3 per cent. interest on the cost of construction of a part of the eastern division during the first years after it was constructed, and while the government was still using it for the purpose of completing the construction of that division, surely there must be ample justification for the construction of the eastern division as a business proposition and every reason to expect that the company will be well able to discharge its obligations in respect of that division. This disposes most completely of the principal attack which the opposition made last year upon the transcontinental railway scheme, the attack which beyond question was the one that was effective in partially discrediting it upon the London money market.

Mr. Borden moved an amendment of the same effect as the first one moved by Mr. Barker in respect of the ownership of the twenty million dollars rolling stock. As the ground had already been gone over in the previous amendment it was negatived without further discussion.

The third amendment was moved by Mr. Clarke and required that freight originating on the Pacific company's lines should be carried entirely on Canadian territory or between Canadian inland ports, and that the rates over that route should not be greater than the rates charged between the same points over any route not wholly Canadian which included any part of the Grand Trunk railway system. The ostensible purpose of this amendment was to provide against the alleged possibility of the Grand Trunk carrying Northwest freight through the States by lines which it neither owned nor controlled, at cheaper rates than it would over the lines which it was responsible for and controlled. The real reason was to hamper the operations of the Grand Trunk Railway and so place it at a disadvantage as compared with its competitor, the C. P. R., which is under no restrictions. In opposition to this amendment it was pointed out that freight rates over the Grand Trunk were absolutely under the control of the railway Commission and that there was no cause for hampering or interfering with the Grand Trunk Railway in that connection any more than with any other existing railway. The section of the act which covers that point is as follows: "The rates and tolls to be levied and taken by the company upon any part of the said railway shall be under the control of the Governor in Council or of such authority, commission, or tribunal as is designated or constituted under any act of the parliament of Canada for the regulation or control of the business of railways." The opposition amendment was negatived and the business of the day was closed.

Ottawa, May 13th.

Killed a Timber wolf

The Okotoks Review has the following story of the killing of a timber wolf near that place last week: Herb Merrick and Henry Sinnott, of Lineham, besides having the sport of shooting a wolf are $40 richer. For a considerable time wolves have been committing depredations in the Lineham district, such as killing calves and young colts, and although the people were vigilant, the wolves could not be found. It remained for the two gentlemen named to do away with one of the offenders on Wednesday. They were driving along the road when they espied a huge timber wolf in the distance. Procuring a rifle and two cartridges, Mr. Merrick followed and fired the two bullets, one penetrating the head and the other the shoulder. This did not suffice to kill the wolf so they were obliged to borrow a shot gun and after a hot three hours' chase with a wolf dog the twain cornered the animal and killed him on Mr. Benu's ranch. The wolf would weigh from 150 to 175 pounds. There are bounties aggregating $40 for a wolf and the boys have applied for same. Mr. John Quirk lost a young calf the same day, supposed to be the last victim of the captured wolf.

Youthful wanderers

The Okotoks Review says: Two young lads about 12 years of age, who claim Strathcona as their home, dropped off a freight on Friday last and remained in town over night. They took up quarters in a convenient wagon box at the Alberta Hotel yards and were snugly ensconced for the night when the genial proprietor of the hotel discovered them. Upon enquiry it was found they had run away from home, and were bent on going to Macleod. They had no money and when given a comfortable bed and a hearty breakfast, they were prepared to continue their trip. They jumped the next freight that came along and are now somewhere on the Crow's Nest Pass. They were in a bedraggled, dirty state and looked as if a bath would do them a power of good. Mr. Sherwood endeavored to communicate with their parents at Strathcona but could not locate them.

WINNIPEG MARKETS

From the Commercial:

Cattle—Supplies are very scarce. Farmers appear to be holding off the market; in fact, some think available supplies are under control. Quotations are from 1 to 3c higher. We quote: No. 2 white in carlots on track are worth 10c here, and feed grades 8c. Farmers' loads, in the country, bring 33 to 35c, and on the street here 40 to 42c. Barley—Owing to the big demand for seed, there is practically none on the market. Malt grades are not offering. Business in feed barley is practically nominal at 25 to 42c. Wheat—Northern 87c, 2 northern 86c, 3 northern 84-8c, No. 4 wheat 78-8c, feed wheat 16-18c, No. 2 feed 18c, spot or May delivery, and for July delivery, 1 northern 87-1-2c, 2 northern 84-1-2c, 3 northern 82c. A little is offered in October wheat at around 80c, the closing price to-day being that figure. All prices are for in store Fort William or Port Arthur.

EDISON

(Bulletin Correspondence.)

The country here is looking its best just now and seeding is going on apace. Ed. Wilson was unfortunate enough to lose one of his fine oxen in a slough the other day; since then he has bought Sam Solid's outfit of horses. Arthur Edgson had a raising last week which was well attended, there being also quite a number of ladies present on the occasion. Photos of the group were taken in the afternoon. Mr. Shutt, we understand, has hauled the whole of his lumber and is already making preparations to build. Church services are to be held on both the western and eastern sides of the settlement now in addition to the centre. Mr. Chagwin will be the preacher.

The roads to town both by the Landing Trail and through Bon Accord are very good just now, and people who have been waiting in town for an opportunity to see this section of the country should take advantage of this and come at once.

Mr. Parton our new settler on the east side, is very well satisfied with his quarter section, and contemplates moving on to it during the next month.

The weather is all that can be desired and no one can say that Alberta is not Sunny Alberta this spring.

Edison, May 25th.
